New Resident Theatre Company

Sport For Jove Theatre Company and the Seymour Centre announce that Sport For Jove is joining the Seymour Centre as a new resident theatre company; joining existing Seymour Centre resident theatre company's Critical Stages, SIMA and Shaun Parker & Company.

In just 6 years, Sport For Jove Theatre Company has grown into one of the largest independent theatre producers in Sydney, with an expanding indoor and outdoor theatre season of classical theatre and an active education program consisting of theatrical productions, symposiums, workshops and in-school residencies that over 20000 NSW students participate in each year. Sport For Jove is appreciative of the Seymour Centre offering this unique opportunity, providing a permanent home in Sydney for Sport For Jove productions allowing for growth as a company and working towards fulfilling our core artistic mission.

A renowned arts organization, the Seymour Centre has an impressive 35 year history of presenting, promoting and developing great Australian performances, the Seymour is now a dynamic urban hub for quality arts experiences presented in one of Sydney's most relaxed and accessible theatre environments. Located in the heart of the University of Sydney the Seymour Centre champions cultural exploration, arts education and audience engagement, presenting a diverse range of the best of contemporary performing arts; we host major festivals, present large-scale theatre, music and dance performances and partner small and emerging companies to develop and present innovative independent productions.
